Thai Abstract

[Thai abstract, not exceeding 300 words, written as a single paragraph. It should cover the research objectives, scope and sample, research instruments and methods, key findings, and brief conclusions or recommendations. Do not include citations, tables, or figures in this section.]

Thai Keywords: keyword 1, keyword 2, keyword 3

Abstract

[English abstract, not exceeding 300 words. It must convey the same content as the Thai abstract: research objectives, scope and participants, instruments and methods, key findings, and brief conclusions or recommendations. Please have the English version proofread before submission.]

Keywords: keyword 1, keyword 2, keyword 3

Introduction

[Describe the background and significance of the problem, the current situation, and the knowledge gap that led to this study, citing related research using the author-date system, e.g., (Author, 2025).]

Research Objectives

[List the objectives in order of importance, e.g., 1) To ... 2) To ... The objectives must be consistent with the findings and conclusions presented in the paper.]

Literature Review and Conceptual Framework

[Synthesize relevant concepts, theories, and prior studies rather than summarizing them one by one, and conclude with the research conceptual framework. If a framework diagram is included, present it as Figure 1 with a caption below the figure.]

Research Methodology

[Describe the research design; the population and sample, including the sampling method; the research instruments and their quality assessment (e.g., IOC and reliability values); data collection; and the statistical or analytical methods, including human research ethics considerations (if applicable).]

Results

Discussion

[Discuss how the findings are consistent with or differ from relevant concepts, theories, and prior studies, with supporting reasons. Do not simply restate the results.]

Conclusion and Recommendations

[Briefly summarize the key points, then provide recommendations for applying the research findings and for future research.]

Acknowledgements

[Acknowledge funding sources, organizations, or individuals who supported the research. Delete this section if not applicable.]
